Why do we do....what we do

Because the positive results we see are what keep us going. I hope you are as inspired by this success story as we are.

Gayle is one of the most loving, caring, and enthusiastic teachers I've ever known", says Carole Richards, Executive Director of North Coast Tutoring Services.

Gayle's teaching experience spans 26 years in the Cleveland public schools and illustrates her love for her students and passion for teaching.

Gayle often expressed her frustration as many of her students had not learned to read well during the first grade - a very critical time in a child's education. The school district did not provide Gayle with the tools she needed to teach her inner-city students.

A young girl sleeps quietly in the back of Gayle's classroom. Gayle permitted this child to nap during her class. A chaotic home situation made it impossible for her to rest at home. Gentle Gayle provided a little corner in the back of the room to give the child some peace and quiet,

Each morning, she did her best to provide this child's education, knowing that by afternoon, exhaustion would overtake the child.

As she began using RICHARDS READ, Gayle found RICHARDS READ Systematic Language very effective in her classroom. It gave her renewed passion and enthusiasm because her students were all learning to read.

Gayle desperately wanted an effective reading program. Soon after learning RICHARDS READ, she retired from the school district, but continues to tutor for North Coast.

Her work with young children and developmentally disabled adults is filled with passion and joy. Gayle's ability to truly make a difference in student's lives is her driving force.

Recently Gayle and the wife of her 40-year-old male student listened with tear-stained eyes as this man spelled one word aloud ... for the first time in his life. He's beginning to READ!

Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays from all of us at North Coast Tutoring Services.
